

Jerry's Psalm

I sing to Jesus, my Redeemer and King.
He hath guided me all my life long.
When to the temple my praises I bring
He filleth my glad heart with song.

The world offered nothing yet I longed for more,
And was surely at the end of my rope.
When looking for truth He opened the door
And flooded my heart with hope.

Now I praise Him, I praise Him, my Redeemer and King,
For He hath brought me His salvation.
He hath burdened my soul to share and to sing
The Good News with unceasing elation.

—Jerry Stevens, December 18, 1993; rev. February 2000